M. M. GOWER DIES IN CONNECTICUT HOME.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Feb. 3.—M. M. Gower, a well-known citizen, died last night at 8:30 o'clock, at his home, 74 Woolsey street, following a few days' illness. He was 78 years of age and a native of Maine. He had resided in this city many years and for a long time was a merchant in Grand avenue, but of late had been in the employ of the New Haven Gas Co. Mr. Gower for sixteen years was a resident of the Sandwich Islands, where he was in business. He was well informed on the history of the islands and on several occasions had given an interesting lecture on that country. At one time his name was considered for appointment as a representative of the United States at Honolulu before the islands were annexed to this country.

Mr. Gower made the trip to the islands in a sailing vessel and was accompanied by his wife. He had a considerable acquaintance with the American missionaries who were among the early settlers in the islands and frequently entertained them at his home. He was also acquainted with several members of the royal family when the islands were a kingdom.

He was formerly a member of the First Baptist and of late was a member of the Grand Avenue Baptist Church. He leaves a widow and three daughters.

"I rather like the motif of that picture," said Mrs. Oldcastle, after she had carefully inspected the new work of art. "Yes, so do I," replied her hostess, as they were passing from the gallery, "only both me and Josiah thought the artist meant it for a cow."—Chicago Record-Herald.

BIG DEMAND FOR SEATS FOR THE KOCIAN CONCERT.

Honolulu responds to a desire to see and hear the best musical artist for this is amply evidenced by the very large sale of seats for the Kocian concert tomorrow night. The box plan was opened last week at the Territorial Messenger Service office on Hotel street, and there had been a generally daily request for seats, so that the house will be practically all sold out when Kocian faces his first Honolulu audience.

Mr. Adams, who is presenting Kocian, will adhere strictly to the rule adopted during the Calve concerts, by disposing of all seats laid aside for patrons and not called for. This rule will also apply in future for all concerts, musicales and other presentations at the Hawaiian Opera House. The first number of Kocian's program will be commenced at eight-fifteen and during the playing no one will be ushered to a seat.

PAROLE LAW AS AMENDED

Three House bills were announced this morning as having been signed by the Governor and become law.

Act 3 abolishes election inspectors as appointed by the mayor of Honolulu, so that the inspectors appointed by the Governor will not need to be either additionally appointed by the mayor or supplemented by his separate appointees.

Act 4 provides that the Supreme Court may prepare for use in the several courts of the Territory such forms as it may deem convenient and sufficient.

Act 5 amends the law relating to indeterminate sentences, otherwise the parole law. Under it the warden reports to the Attorney General the case of a prisoner that has served at least six months, who in his opinion, after watching him, would remain at liberty without violating the law, and whose release would not be incompatible with the welfare of society. If the Attorney General decides on consideration of the case that the prisoner is entitled to his final discharge, the warden shall make out a complete record of the case, to be signed by himself and the Attorney General. Thereupon, subject to the approval of the Governor, the prisoner shall receive from the warden a written discharge from further liability under his sentence.

Representative Towse this morning introduced a bill that if passed will further reduce the hardness of the transgressor's way. It provides that upon the discharge of any prisoner who has undergone a sentence of one year or more at hard labor in the Territorial prison, in case said person has not funds sufficient for present purposes, he shall be furnished by the warden with five dollars in money and a suit of clothes costing not more than ten dollars. The expense is made chargeable to account of maintenance of prisoners.

work will be done every day until complete, there being no one day limit.

Doctor Hobby emphasized the necessity of getting people to understand that they should boil their water and refrain from eating uncooked vegetables and fish.

Rath told how children bathe in the streams in Palama and patrols will be stationed there to see that the practise is stopped.

Mott-Smith declared there was a tendency on the part of householders to say it was the duty of inspectors to clean up. Such was not their duty. The inspector draws attention to everything he thinks needs cleaning and it is the bounden duty of householders to keep their places clean. Arrests are likely to follow unless this misapprehension, if it is a misapprehension, is done away with.

Doctor Ramus advised cutting out steerage passage on interisland steamers for the time being and having passengers from Honolulu examined at ports of arrival. He and Mr. Kennedy of the Inter-island will consult today as to the best rules to adopt.

Mr. Waterhouse of the pol factory declared the gravest danger existing for the spread of any disease to be the custom of sending poi containers to a house and having them returned unclean, and not properly cleaned thereafter, and then sent to another house. It was the sense of the meeting that all poi factories not absolutely sanitary should be closed.

Waterhouse offered to hand his factory over to the board of health to put out poi at cost price under such regulations as prescribed by the board. He is at present supplying twenty per cent of the city's poi consumption.

Eight Japanese were this morning arrested by the board of health officers for fishing off Waikiki.

City Physician Mackall stated that the situation as to garbage would probably be relieved as soon as the garbage department was turned over to the health authorities, which transfer would probably be made today.

CHARGED WITH THREATS TO KILL HIS WIFE.

Manuel Rawlins, who has already been in jail a couple of times for wife-beating and for threatening language, is again under arrest, charged with having threatened to kill his divorced wife. Mrs. Rawlins is the mother of eight children, and she is forced to work daily to keep her family. The defendant seldom works, it is stated, and when drunk he visits the home of Mrs. Rawlins and usually endeavors to create trouble. This morning he went to Mrs. Rawlins' home in Kakaako and threatened to kill the woman. He will appear before Judge Lymer tomorrow morning.
